Wholesale Delivery From Lee County Jail Is Foiled

TAX REFUNDS HAD BOARD IN REAL QUANDRY

Supervisors Decided A Court Decision Is Essential

The "lame-duck" session of the Board of Supervisors terminated last evening following a heated meeting in which various matters were discussed, and which left the gas tax road as originally planned with a ten-foot cement road extending across the county and passing through but one city, Amboy. The most important item of business to come before the board at the final session was the refund question which was introduced by Supervisor Henry Knetch of Paw Paw and which drew a lengthy discussion.

Motions were made and withdrawn and an effort made to drop the question without action, which was blocked by Supervisor Lucien Hemmaway of Steward, who was insistent that the board take some action in backing up the special committee.

In drawing the attention of the board members to the subject, Supervisor Knetch stated that court action was necessary for the protection of the board in the refunding of the illegal taxes collected for the year 1929. He added that in his opinion, the board was duty bound to refund the illegal tax, which was estimated at more than $30,000 and he made a plea for the board to take some action before adjourning.

Held Court Act Essential. Supervisor Lucien Hemmaway of Alton township suggested that the special committee ascertain the amount that is to be refunded to the taxpayers of the county and that the board then appropriate a sum sufficient to refund the illegal tax. In the discussion following it was decided that the board could not legally refund any of the taxes and that court action was necessary.

Supervisor Gilbert Finch of Amboy told the board that he favored the instituting of a friendly suit enjoining the Board of Supervisors from refunding any of the illegally collected taxes.

"There is no parallel case on record, so far as your committee has been advised, whereby this board can gauge its action," Supervisor Finch told the board. "It will be necessary, in order to bring this matter to a head, to start a friendly suit in the courts, enjoining this board from refunding the illegal tax. The case can then be carried to the Supreme Court, which will be necessary, to secure an opinion and ruling by which this board can act. This is the only solution of this question, insofar as your committee has been advised."

Supervisor William Avery of May township presented a motion in which he sought to empower the special tax investigating committee to start legal action to force the payment of the illegal tax and when informed that the committee was without power to hire counsel, his motion was withdrawn.

To Solicit Funds.

Supervisor Hemmaway refused to permit the tax refund proposition to go into the discard at the March meeting and again introduced the subject after other business had been disposed of. He suggested a plan for the financing of legal proceedings which would enjoin the board from refunding the illegal taxes which would take the question to the Supreme Court for a final ruling and practically every member of the board voted by standing to support the committee in such action when Supervisor Hemmaway called for a standing vote for the purpose of securing the expression of the board.

As it now stands members of the county board will solicit the banking institutions of the county as well as manufacturing industries and business who are the most concerned in the matter of refunding of the illegal taxes, the fund to be used in the institution of a friendly suit to enjoin the board of supervisors from refunding the tax. This will result in the case being carried to the Illinois supreme court for a final opinion, upon which the board will act.

The Road and Bridge Committee voted another upsurge at the final sitting of the session. Members were responsible for calling it a lame duck session because of the fact that three of the leading members were sitting in their final session. The veteran William Brucker, who has represented Sublette and China townships; Ross Emmitt of Harmon township

PRISONERS SURPRISED AT WORK AT HOLE IN WEST WALL OF ANCIENT JAIL

Oddities in the NEWS

TOO MUCH SINGING

Chicago, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Dr. Anthony Bertash filed suit for divorce in Superior Court yesterday against Mrs. Nellie Bertash. He charged that he had to stop taking his wife to the opera because she insisted on singing herself while attending the performances as a spectator.

VISITED CIRCUS

Marion, Ill., Mar. 14.—(AP)—Guy Estell Pierce went to the circus which is quartered here for the winter.

They were giving the elephant a bath. The big animal reached down and filled his trunk with water and began to spray. Guy jumped back to get out of line of the water. As he did so a lion reached his paw through the bars of the cage and grabbed him.

Guy freed himself by wriggling out of his coat and a doctor patched up his injuries.

His condition is not serious.

CRIME WAVE OVER

Coralville, Ia., Mar. 14.—(AP)—The "crime wave" is over.

It began back in 1890 between which time and now six men were imprisoned in the town jail, which got to be such a useless thing for lack of inmates that it was turned into a warehouse.

Yesterday Mayor Edward Koser put the finishing touches to what remained as a reminder of the town's crime. He touched a match to the place to burn it down.

No one seemed to remember exactly when the last of the six culprits was in jail.

MANY SWOONS FAKED

Chicago, Mar. 14.—(AP)—It may not be worth while to cry, if you happen to see a lad or a lassie tumble into a dead swoon while dancing in a dance marquee.

Officials of a marathon brought this out at a hearing yesterday before a Master in Chancery, in which they are seeking to enjoin the city authorities from putting a stop to the dance. Miss Edith Abbott, a nurse, hired to watch the dancers, was asked if the participants did not give way to exhaustion. She replied:

"Why, many of those falls are merely simulated to entertain the patrons and to provide excitement. The contestants after such swoons are often carried behind the scenes, where they give way to side-splitting laughter."

ACTED TOO SOON

Chicago, Mar. 14.—(AP)—It was Friday, March 13, but the day or rather the night was almost gone as James Murphy stood in front of a candy shop.

"Five minutes more," he said, "but what's a few minutes."

With this remark he walked in, drew a pistol, pointed it at Miss Tessie Smith, the manager, and then ordered her to put all the money in a candy bag, which she did.

"Good night and good luck," he said as he walked out into the waiting arms of Sergeant Peter Hayes and the members of his squad.

"Just passing by," said the Sergeant who is authority for the statement that in the candy bag was $13. Murphy took out his watch again. "One minute until Saturday the 14th," he said.

Then he got into the police car and the day was done.

Reinstate Fifteen Drinking Students

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 14.—(AP)—A tentative agreement whereby most of the 17 students suspended for liquor drinking at the University of Minnesota Farm School will be reinstated, today was expected to aid in smoothing over difficulties brought about by the action of the school authorities.

A step toward settling the dispute was taken yesterday by a special committee of the state Senate in a conference with university officials.

It was decided that first offenders would not be granted their diplomas, and that all others, except two, would have to make up certain work at the school. Two of the students have been expelled for engaging in bootlegging activities, and will not be allowed to return.

Break For Liberty Had Been Set For Late Hour Tonight

An attempted wholesale delivery of prisoners from the Lee county jail which was to have taken place late tonight or early Sunday morning was frustrated at 1 o'clock this afternoon when Sheriff Fred Richardson and several deputies conducted a surprise inspection of the west corridor, in which 21 prisoners are confined. Prisoners were at work on the south wall removing masonry when Sheriff Richardson and his deputies unexpectedly entered the corridor, ordering every inmate into cells where they were hurriedly locked up.

Several bushels of old plaster, cement and rock had been dug out of the south wall, where the old rusted covering had been removed. The officers found the crude tools on the floor where they had been left, the prisoners not being able to conceal them as the sheriff and his deputies rushed into the main corridor.

Pieces of steel which had been torn and pried from the cots in the cells and converted into crude chisels and bars, heavily wrapped in discarded pieces of clothing, to deaden any sound, were lying at the opening. It appeared that work had been under way for about four days and all that remained to be accomplished was the removal of the outer brick wall. Two large stones which would have provided an opening of sufficient size to permit the exit of the largest men in the jail.

Prisoners Locked Up

Sheriff Richardson ordered every inmate into cells where they were locked up while the inspection continued this afternoon. Every cell was being carefully searched for tools and implements employed in the attempted jail break. Three prisoners were suspected as having been the leaders in the attempt. These three have been locked up in cells each night and it was believed that the work had been carried on entirely during the day time.

Prisoners, last night, on a burlap bag filled with waste paper as they took turns in digging away the ancient masonry and enlarging the opening. There were indications that the rusted steel lining of the inner wall had been heated by a fire built inside.

DIXON NEWSBOY MADE HAPPY BY GOOD SAMARITAN

Un-named Benefactor Of Boys Once Received Same Treatment

A certain Evening Telegraph newsboy has been made happy by the gift of a whole new outfit of clothes, and it came to him in a very unique way. We'll tell you about it, and you'll think you are reading a fairy story, but strange to say, it is true.

Once upon a time, many years ago, in the great city of Philadelphia, a newsboy was selling his papers on a downtown street corner. It was bitterly cold. His hands were blue, his feet were like ice and his ragged clothing was poor protection against the winter wind. But his parents were very poor and they needed the pennies he earned so he had to stay on the job until his papers were all sold. Patrons were scarce this cold, stormy night, but now and then a passerby snatched a paper, paid for it and hurried on.

Finally a man, a traveling salesman, came along and stopped for a paper. He noticed the youngster's hands, blue and numb with the cold, and saw his ragged clothing, and he stopped to talk with him. He learned that the boy's family was very poor and how necessary was the money he brought home from his newsstand. The stranger bought all the lad's papers and took him to a nearby clothing store and outfitted him from head to foot with new, warm clothing. The lad thanked the kindly stranger and ran all the way home to show his mother his good fortune. And he made two resolutions that night. One was that when he grew up he was going to be a traveling salesman as his benefactor was. The other was that he was some day going to be able to help other kids as he had been helped.

He Made Good

The inspiration probably helped him. Anyway, that poor little newsboy grew up and got a job as a traveling salesman.

E. ST. LOUIS WOMEN ATTACKED

Dixon Telegraph One Of 49 Daily Papers Honored

Urbana, Ill., Mar. 14.—(AP)—Forty nine daily and 92 weekly newspapers have been awarded a distinguished rating for 1930 in the annual national community newspaper contest conducted at the School of Journalism, University of Illinois. The contest is open each year to daily and weekly newspapers published in communities under 50,000 population.

Prof. O. C. Letter of the journalism staff, judged daily newspapers and Dr. Burris Dickinson, also of the staff, judged weeklies. Prof. R. R. Barlow was manager for the contest.

"The daily newspapers were judged on the basis of variety and quantity of news printed, evidence of covering the home territory carefully, excellence of the editorial page, evidence of public spirit and independence, and care in editing and printing," Professor Letter said today.

Certificates of distinguished rating will be mailed the newspaper winning the award. The following dailies in Illinois received ratings: Alton Evening Telegraph; Cairo Evening Citizen; Canton Daily Ledger; Danville Commercial News; Dixon Evening Telegraph; Edwardsville Intelligencer; Jacksonville Daily Journal; Lewistown (Maine) Evening Journal; Moline Daily Dispatch; Morrisburg Daily Independent; Robinson Daily News, Rock Island Argus, Sterling Daily Gazette.

Charges Prepared Against Jas. Walker

New York, March 14.—(AP)—As the result of a year's investigation, the City Affairs Committee will file with Governor Roosevelt next week charges of incompetence, neglect and indifference against Mayor Walker.

John Haynes Holmes, chairman of the committee, a civilian body, said that Henry Rosner, research secretary, had quietly been assembling the material on which the accusations will be based.

Mr. Holmes and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, vice chairman, personally will present them.

Under the state public office act, the Governor may accept or reject the charges. If he accepts, he may investigate them himself or appoint a commissioner or the Attorney General to act for him. If the charges are substantiated, he may remove the mayor.

District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain has made a move to combat accusations made against him by the City Club. He protested in a letter to the Governor the appointment of Commissioner Samuel Seabury as his judge on the grounds that the latter is a member of the City Club and already had criticized him on several occasions.

TWO NEGROES SOUGHT FOR BRUTAL CRIME

Forced Way Into Home In Which Party Was Being Held

East St. Louis, Ill., Mar. 14.—(AP)

Two Negroes forced their way into three homes here last night, criminally attacked two women and a 16-year-old girl, bound and gagged a number of men, including husbands of the two women, and stole an unestimated quantity of jewelry and money.

At a fourth home which they invaded they were frightened away by an accidental revolver shot.

Reports of the crimes, the last of which was committed about 10:45 P. M. were suppressed by East St. Louis police, but where made public by Mike Doyle, Deputy Sheriff of St. Clair county.

One of the Negroes, according to witnesses, was tall and light colored, with a scar running from his left eye to the corner of his mouth. The other was short and very black. Both were armed, one with two pistols and the other with one.

At the first home invaded, that of Henry Nichols, a party was in progress. The Negroes knocked and were admitted by Nichols who was expecting other guests.

The host, two other men, and a youth were bound and gagged by the intruders and then locked in a bathroom. The tall Negro then attacked a 16-year-old girl, Doyle said he was told, and the short Negro attacked the wife of one of the guests. One of the women, who also were tied before the robbers took the guests' valuables and left, succeeded in wriggling loose and freeing the others.

MOTHER HURLED 3 CHILDREN AND SELF INTO OCEAN

One, Boy Aged 9, Saved Self: Woman Was Despondent

Mattapoisett, Mass., Mar. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. William Chester Allison of Scituate, R. I., last night hurled her three children from a Mattapoisett dock and jumped into the ocean to her death after them.

Wayne Allison, 9, who was found dripping wet and exhausted a mile from the dock, told the story to the state police. The lad said his mother had taken him, his sister, Hope, 6, and his baby brother, De Witt, 3, to the dock on the pretense of showing them the New York boat. She hurled them into the water, he said, as they stepped to the edge of the wharf and then jumped in herself.

Wayne, unable to swim, clung to rocks beneath the wharf and pulled himself ashore. The vicinity was deserted and the boy started to walk for help. Ralph Purinton found him on the street and called a constable, Sylvester Savage, who heard the exhausted and frightened lad's story.

The boy was wrapped up in bed at Purinton's home in New Bedford and state police began a search for the bodies of the brother, sister, and mother. They had not been recovered today after several hours of grappling.

The husband and father, who learned of the tragedy on his return from work yesterday, started for Mattapoisett immediately.

The Allison have lived at Scituate five years, coming from Fall River. Friends of the family and neighbors said that Mrs. Allison had been despondent for several weeks.

ATTITUDE OF PESSIMISM

Schenectady, N. Y.—(UP)—The prevailing attitude in the United States toward present-day China is one of pessimism, according to Kenneth Scott Latourette, professor of missions and oriental history at Yale. He believes China will require a century, perhaps two or three centuries to adapt itself to western civilization.

Preliminary surveys are being made for a $6,000,000 Federal port project at Brownsville, Tex.

MISS ANNA HOBERG, AGED 14, HIGH SCHOOL FRESHMAN, WINS DIXON POEM CONTEST

Her Entry, No. 1, Gets Most Votes: Check For $100 Hers

Miss Anna Marie Hoberg, 14 years old, a freshman in the Dixon high school, wins the prize of $100 for the most popular poem on the theme "I was brought up out in Dixon, Dixon out in Illinois." Miss Hoberg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoberg, lives at 404 Jackson avenue. She was notified of her good fortune and came to the Evening Telegraph office today and received her reward.

The happy young prize winner, a petite blonde, whose father is a foreman in the J. I. Case Company, p. w. works here and whose mother was formerly Miss Katherine McGrail, for a number of years City stenographer, was born in Dixon, May 2, 1916, and is an only child. She graduated from St. Mary's parochial school and entered Dixon high school last fall.

She was greatly surprised that her poem was considered the best of all those entered in the contest, and said this morning that she was greatly discouraged while writing it, destroying several attempts before completing and deciding to submit the one, for perseverance on which she won $100.

Is Very Grateful

She likes literary work but is undecided as to whether she will make that her career. She expressed gratitude to all readers who voted for her poem and asked The Telegraph to forward her letter of thanks to the unknown donor of the prize which she has won.

The votes on the twelve best poems are all in and have been tabulated and Miss Hoberg wins by a wide margin.

Evening Telegraph subscribers to the number of 134 voted in favor of her poem, which was number one on the list. Her nearest competitor, Jack Van Meter, 1411 W. Third St., number 11, was the next highest with 88 votes. Stanley Krahler, Hazelwood Road, number 3, was fourth with 47 votes. Audrey L. Leetch, 963 College Ave., number 4, was fifth with 34 votes and Amy Lucia Ackert, 212 E. Boyd, street, poem number 6, was sixth on the list with 32 votes. The others followed.

THREE-FINGERED GANGSTER GIVEN FOURTEEN YEARS

William White Was Found Guilty Of Murder Of Policeman

Chicago, March 14.—(AP)—William ("Three Fingers Jack") White, robber and gangster, was convicted today of the murder of Policeman Edward Pfau of Forest Park. The jury fixed the penalty at 14 years in prison.

The verdict robbed the Chicago underworld of another notorious criminal, but the punishment was lighter than that assessed at his first trial. Sentenced to death for the murder five years ago, he won a reversal in the Supreme Court which held it had not been proved that Officer Pfau and his companions had the right to arrest White. The case then lingered on the docket until White was listed by the Chicago Crime Commission as one of 28 "public enemies," and the old murder charge was revived in the campaign to cleanse Chicago of its criminals.

White and his companion, James Johnstone, were sought for a series of robberies, one of them a bank robbery at McHenry, when Pfau and Sgt. James McBride accosted them in the Manhattan Inn the night of Dec. 13, 1925.

Johnstone was shot to death in a gun battle at the suburban road house, and Pfau was fatally wounded by White as he escaped.

While the new trial was in preparation several weeks ago gunner drove abreast of a Maywood street car on which Sgt. McBride, the state's star witness, was a passenger. They emptied shotguns through the street car window and shattered the policeman's jaw, but after weeks in a hospital he recovered sufficiently to identify White as the slayer of his companion.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

STARTS HABEAS CORPUS.

Attorney Edward Jones this afternoon instituted habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Harry Edwards to secure the release from the county jail of Leroy Slick of this city, who is held under bonds of $1,000 in the circuit court for violation of his parole. The petition was withdrawn shortly after the hearing started and Slick remained in custody.

17 CARS RECOVERED

State Highway Officer Hal Roberts of this city returned home last evening from Chicago where he has been assigned on special duty in the uncovering of a number of stolen cars. Three more cars were found concealed in garages yesterday, bringing the total to 17 machines which have been uncovered this week.

Officer Roberts and Sergeant Oliver Kempster of Sterling are working with members of the auto detail of the Chicago detective bureau in the campaign to recover stolen automobiles.

NEW OIL STATION

Local Manager Ralph Matthews of the Standard Oil Company today announced the building of another service station at the corner of Ravine avenue and East River street, where the company recently acquired the George Brown residence property. Work is now under way on the building of a modern service station which is to be of brick construction and fire proof throughout and equipped with every modern convenience.

Approximately $10,000 will be spent on the erection of the new station, it was stated. Double concrete drives will connect state highway route 2 on Ravine avenue with East River street, and the station is to be completed within the next 60 days.

FARMERS MEETING

The meeting for farmers of Dixon and vicinity in the agricultural department at the high school next Monday evening at 7:30 will be devoted to the subject "Feeding of Beef Cattle." The discussion will be led by Frank Wilson who has been engaged in the cattle raising industry on a large scale for several years and in this line has been very successful. This phase of the farming industry has been growing in importance in this community and do doubt many will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing the subject discussed from a practical standpoint.

At the close of the meeting there will be an indoor baseball game between the farmers and the students of the agriculture class in the high school gymnasium. Much interest is being shown in the contest as the boys earlier in the season defeated the farmers by a close margin of one point.

Andrew C. Leidig Died This Morning

Andrew Charles Leidig, a resident of Dixon for the past 20 years, passed away at his home, 1618 Fourth street, this morning at 5:45 at the age of 70 years, ten months and 14 days. He had been ill for some time with complications. The deceased was a carpenter by occupation and was born in Huntington, Pa., May 31, 1861. Funeral services will be conducted from the First Presbyterian church Monday afternoon at 2:30, the pastor, Rev. J. Franklin Young presiding and with interment in Oakwood.

Hoover Plans Tour Of Eight Speeches

Washington, Mar. 14.—(UP)—A program of eight speeches by President Hoover between now and June 17, was announced today at the White House.

Three will be made on a trip beginning June 15, at Indianapolis and ending June 17, in the dedication of the Lincoln Memorial at Springfield, Ill. Between these two dates the President will dedicate the Harding Memorial at Marion, O., and review the Grand Army of the Republic at Columbus.

SUBDUED BY GUARDS AFTER WILD RIOTING

Four Convicts And One Guard Wounded During The Battle

Joliet, Ill., Mar. 14.—(AP)—Four convicts were wounded, two seriously, and one guard suffered a broken arm in a riot at the 75-year-old state penitentiary here at noon today. Prison guards quelled the mutiny after the dining room and kitchen had been wrecked.

The outbreak occurred in the dining hall when 1,100 prisoners refused to return to their cells after luncheon.

A chorus of boos and catcalls gave warning of the riot, and the 25 guards in the hall sent an alarm that brought reserves from every part of the prison.

The outbreak occurred in the dining hall when 1,100 prisoners refused to return to their cells after luncheon.

The prisoners, although unarmed, held control of the hall and sixty of the leaders rushed into the kitchen, wrecking it thoroughly. The rest of the 1,100, more passive, were heard meanwhile into their cell blocks but refused to allow themselves to be locked into their own cells. Shots fired over their heads sent them to cover, however, and one prisoner was wounded by a ricocheted bullet.

The three score rioters having smashed everything in the kitchen returned to the dining hall and demolished tables, chairs and fixtures, throwing furniture through windows. Mobilized guards finally subdued the ringleaders, and 43 men were locked up in solitary confinement pinioned to irons by arms and legs.

Safety posts installed in the ancient cell houses by the present Warden aided in the quick suppression of the less aggressive prisoners who retreated to their block.

The posts command a view of the corridor in each cell block, and permit guards to enter them unseen by the convicts. When the trouble began today these safety boxes were manned instantly and the thousand convicts who milled about in the corridors defying the guards who ordered them into their cells were covered by the concealed sentries. Warning shots fired from the boxes and tear gas bombs sent the recalcitrant prisoners behind their bars promptly.

WITHOUT CLUES IN FLA. $1,000,000 JEWELRY THEFT

Palm Beach Store Is Cleaned Out: Manager Kidnaped

Palm Beach, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Police groped in virtual darkness today as they sought a guiding gleam to lead them to approximately one million dollars worth of diamonds and pearls that disappeared in the largest jewel robbery within the memory of this wealthy resort.

The gems were taken from the local branch of Chariton & Company, New York jewelers. Neither Otto Wegener, local manager; D. H. Odom, night watchman, nor J. Schuler, employee of the firm, gave the authorities any tangible clues.

The burglary apparently occurred at the one hour of the day in which no watchman was on duty. Wegener told the investigators he was kidnaped by four men Thursday night who forced him to deliver the keys and combination under threat of his life.

Sheriff R. C. Baker released Wegener, Odom and Schuler after he had interrogated them.

Odom, who left the store at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, one hour before the day watchman came on duty, told the Sheriff the place had been unlooted up to the time he went home.

Wegener said four men, who addressed him as "Otto" seized him in front of his hotel, carried him to a vacant house in West Palm Beach obtained the key and combination and left him tied to the kitchen sink bound and gagged. He said it took him about 40 minutes to extricate himself and report to the police after his guard left.

CO-OPERATION

STAND off by yourself in your dreaming.
And all of your dreams are vain;
No grandeur of soul or spirit
Can man by himself attain.
It is willed we shall dwell as brothers;
As brothers then we must toll;
We must act with a common purpose
As we work in a common soil.

Miss Emmert Hostess To Missionary Society

The Missionary Society of St. Paul's church in Nachusa met at the home of Miss Anna Emmert Thursday afternoon, March 12.

The meeting opened with a short devotional service, conducted by Mrs. Oscar Eicholtz.

A very interesting lesson study on the topic, "The Teacher in India," was introduced by Mrs. Roy Crawford as leader. She was assisted in the lesson program by readings given by different members on the conditions and needs in our schools in India as given in reports of the Foreign Mission Board.

Some letters of interest from the Harvey Currens family in Africa added much to the interest of the meeting.

A short business session was followed by a social hour when the hostesses, Miss Anna Emmert, Mrs. Stahl and Mrs. Wilbur Emmert served very tempting refreshments. There was a good attendance of members and several visitors present visitors present to enjoy the pleasant afternoon.

Palmyra Unit Of Home Bureau Met

The Palmyra Unit of the Home Bureau held a pleasant all day meeting Friday with Mrs. Carl Straw with a picnic dinner at noon. There were present twenty-four visitors, eight children. As the secretary could not be present Mrs. Maxwell read the secretary's report. Roll call was answered to with hints on housecleaning. The home adviser, Mrs. Syverud, gave the talk on Food Selection which was helpful.

The April meeting will be held with Mrs. Ellis Williams.

Sublette Unit Home Bureau Held Meeting

The Sublette Unit of the Lee County Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Gus Bauer on March 12th. The meeting was called to order by the Unit chairman as the secretary was not able to attend this meeting. The useful business was taken care of after which the Home Advisor gave a very interesting lesson on "Food Selection." For roll call the ladies exchanged flower seeds and bulbs. At this meeting the ladies were requested to attend in hard time clothing. All appeared before the recreation leader to be judged. The result being that most of the ladies were required to pay a small fine. The first prize for the most hard time dressed lady was won by Mrs. George Pauble and the second prize by Mrs. Ed Wolf.

Eighteen ladies were present and the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Pauble on April 2nd. This will be an all day meeting with a picnic dinner at noon. For roll call a home made rug demonstration will take place.

This Story Proves Women ARE Weaker Sex; Some of Them!!

Chicago, Mar. 14—(UP)—Francis X. Bushman, former movie star, looked wearily today at a huge stack of letters and telegrams and a sack of six lemons upon his desk and complained that he "couldn't even sleep anymore" since offering himself in marriage to any woman who could support him in the manner to which he was accustomed.

"They pester me at the stage door, call me by telephone in the middle of the night and even invade my dressing room and some of them say unkind things," Bushman, who is 47 and still very handsome, said after explaining that despite the lemons and the objections of his son, his offer still held.

"Dad's spent seven million dollars already and I'd think he'd be satisfied," the younger Bushman, named for his father, was quoted as saying.

To date, Bushman said, he has received about 70 answers to his announcement that he wanted a rich wife. Most of the answers, he said, went straight to the wastebasket because the women neglected to say how much money they had and the actor won't consider anything less

GORDON STRING QUARTET COMING

Famous musical organization, each member of which is a virtuoso, which will appear in concert at the Methodist church here Monday evening, under the auspices of the Dixon Civic Music Association.

Put A Little Bit O' Erin In Your Saint Patrick's Day Dinner

"It seems there were two Irishmen, Pat and Mike"—and when they got together, they celebrated Saint Patrick's Day! Just as we all celebrate the date, set aside as March 17th, so the story goes because some thought the good Saint was born on the eighth and some on the ninth. A day for parties and pleasant events, and wearin' o' the green, whether you "mither and sayther are Oirish or not!"

Anything good and cheering may be eaten on Saint Patrick's Day but it's nice to serve something green, something shamrock-shaped, and something very Irish!

First, there's "Murphy's"—potatoes, of course. What better thing to do than to cook them O'Brien, first frying them in a bland corn oil which turns them just properly crisp and brown and then mixing them with spicy onion and brilliant strips of canned pimiento?

Potatoes O'Brien
1 quart pared, cubed, raw potatoes
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons onion
1 (3 1/2 oz.) can pimientos
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers

Corn Oil
The potatoes should be cut in half-inch cubes. Put them in a frying basket and immerse in corn oil heated to 350 degrees Fahrenheit or until it will brown a bit of bread in one minute. Drain, dust with salt and pepper and add the green peppers, pimientos and minced onion, sautéed until tender in two tablespoons oil.

Shamrocks may be made of several ways, salads filled with cottage cheese, cookies cut shamrock shape and shamrock rolls, not so difficult as you thought when there is no cutting in of fat, as in this recipe:

Shamrock Rolls
1 cup scalded milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons salt
1/4 cup corn oil
1 cup cold water
1/4 yeast cake
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
3 pts. bread flour
Add sugar, salt and oil to scalded milk and when they are blended add cold water. Mix yeast with lukewarm water and add to other mixture. Add only enough flour to make a sponge which can be beaten smooth. Let rise over night and add enough flour to knead. Let dough rise again until double its bulk and shape rolls into shamrocks by making three balls of dough, placing three balls in each division of a muffin pan. Then let them double their bulk and bake in hot oven, 450 degrees Fahrenheit, fifteen minutes. For quick rolls use double or triple amount of yeast.

Even the menu must sport a bit of green. The colored coconut frostings may now be bought in green, and will decorate in true Hibernian fashion these cup cakes, which have a flavor made delightful because of the spices and wholesome syrup they contain, and boast the name of

Emerald Isle
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup dark corn syrup
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon mace
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk

Cream butter and sugar together and add well beaten eggs. Mix syrup and milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add them alternately to creamed ingredients and mix well. Bake in cup cake pans with oiled paper in bottom and sides well oiled in quick oven for 20 minutes (400 degrees F.). Frost with any simple frosting and sprinkle generously with green coconut frostings.

Another note—and a wholesome one—may be brought in as the bit of sweet for the day, if pasteurized dates are stuffed with cut marshmallows, the cut or sticky side sprinkled with the green coconut, and a tiny flag of Erin perched on top.

No such celebration would be complete without mention of the Blarney Stone, which is supposed to give Irishmen their gift of flattery. Blarney stone or no Blarney stone, you will like these Irish kisses.

Irish Kisses
1/2 cup (4 lb.) peanut butter
1/2 package pasteurized dates
1/4 cup powdered sugar
2 egg whites unbeaten
Stir all ingredients together in a bowl until they are thoroughly blended. Drop the mixture by teaspoonful on a well-oiled baking sheet or inverted dripping pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Makes 18 kisses.

For the most progression and for the highest score. The second favor was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roebuck for the second high score. Dr. and Mrs. Warren G. Murray won the favor for third high score.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burchell of Oregon were guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Cleveland at their home on Thursday evening.

ARE GUESTS AT ARTHUR CARNES HOME
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips, of Des Moines, Ia., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carnes in Dixon.

Delightful Dinner
And Bridge Party
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lager, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Durkes, Mrs. C. H. Bokhoff and Miss Grace Steel entertained at another delightful party last evening, having entertained on Thursday evening also.

Last evening forty guests dined at the home of the Misses Breed, where a beautifully appointed and served dinner was enjoyed, with spring-like decorations of yellow tapers, pink roses and yellow and lavender flowers, tulips, and jonquils and snap dragons. Afterward a happy evening was spent at bridge at the Durkes home where the same pretty color combination in flowers and favors and talleys was emphasized.

The first prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Newcomer, at bridge

Annual Group Meeting R. R. Valley M. E. F. M. S. Thursday Dixon M. E. Church

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Dixon Methodist church was hostess to the annual Rock River Valley Group meeting, held Thursday, March 12th. The weather was ideal, so that nearly all of the fourteen societies, which comprise this group in Lee and Whiteside counties, were represented, some of them with large delegations. Sterling Fourth Street Auxiliary received the award for the largest number present, having 32. District Supt. the Rev. L. Hammitt, and several other ministers were in attendance. Mrs. H. F. Ware of Dixon, vice president of the group presided at both sessions. The opening hymn was "Jesus Shall Reign" led by Mrs. Chas. Williford with Mrs. Blake Grover at the piano.

Miss Flora Seals, president of the local auxiliary, led the devotions, using for her theme the parable of the talents. She offered prayer and the missionaries' hymn "I Love to Tell the Story" closed the devotional period.

Brief semi-annual reports were given by a representative of each society as follows:

Amboy, Ashton, Dixon, Erie, Franklin Grove, Harmon, Lyndon, Morrison, Prophetstown, Rock Falls, Sterling, First Church, Sterling Fourth Street, Tampico and Walnut. Two churches in this group are known as zero churches they are Compton and West Brooklyn, paying no organizations of W. F. M. S. Among the many good things accomplished it was noted that Prophetstown had all dues paid. Rock Falls are using seven study books "A Cloud of Witnesses" and have gained six subscribers to the "Missionary Friend."

The report of the District Treasurer Mrs. F. Hobbs, was most encouraging, her receipts being twelve dollars more than at this time last year.

Mrs. James Poard, Rochelle district secretary of children's work, talked on the importance of the King's Heralds and Little Light Bearers organizations.

At 11:45 Mrs. Glenn Craddock, Morrison, Rock River Conference secretary, conducted the "quiet hour" using the topic appropriate for the Lenten season, "The Vine and the Branches." Prayers were offered by Mrs. J. L. Fifer, Joliet, for the officers of the auxiliaries; by Mrs. C. N. Timmons, branch superintendent of young people's work, for the young people; by Mrs. E. B. Rodgers, Joliet, district president for the missionaries and Mrs. A. W. Mohs, Rock Falls, for ourselves.

A very pleasing feature of the program was the special musical numbers. The vocal solo "The Ninety and Nine" was rendered by Mrs. Rae Chadwick, Ashton and Mrs. Elva Kugler, Harmon, sang "In the Hush of the Twilight Hour."

A demonstration on Stewardship entitled "The Tithen Eggs" was well given by three members of Fourth Street Sterling auxiliary, Mrs. Fimmon, president, taking the leading part. The moral was plain that true happiness comes to the Christian through tithing his possessions.

Mrs. Craddock brought inspiring news that every district in Rock River Conference has made a gain in membership.

The newest thing under the Methodist sun is "The College Abroad Movement" which is the joint effort of college graduates in this country and in the Orient, to train eastern college women for leadership in their own countries—in other words, the chief purpose is to get the college women of the east and west to know each other. Mrs. Harry Laity has just been appointed Director of the College Abroad Circles in our northwestern branch.

Helpful talks were given by Mrs. Fifer, Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Mohs. The latter urged that more "mite boxes be used," and that we work for the $5 "Sunset Shares" for the retirement fund.

Elegance and individuality characterize the new modes, with color rampant, in delectable shades. Jean Patou makes a gleaming green opaline satin gown with a new sheath effect, with fullness on both sides, well below the hipline. An early spring hat from Patou is made of reversible green panne and faille ribbon, with a jaunty knot showing the faille side of the ribbon. When evening gowns are black this spring, they must be elegant, as in this Patou one of heavy crepe Billitis, with a brand new open-work decolletage and the sheath skirt with side fullness.

Mrs. Rodgers appealed for an increased interest in the institute to be held at Franklin Grove, June 11-14. Mrs. Rudolph Malek from Africa and Miss Dorothy Jones will be among the speakers.

The address of the afternoon, given by Miss Dorothy Jones, who has been our district missionary in West China for twenty-eight years will not soon be forgotten. Her subject was "Vision in the Lord's work." She said we must not localize Christ but remember "He is a World Redeemer." The recent famine in North China due to the total failure of crops for four successive years is the worst famine that has been known in the history of the world, and never has an appeal been made for help that has met with so little response as the appeal for these famine sufferers. She urged her hearers to pray for the new Christian president of China. She told of the tobacco trust and motion picture industry of America putting over their evil programs in China. A leading Chinese educator says "America ought to send to China 100 missionaries for every 'movie man' she sends." Girls from the government schools tell her, "O yes, our parents were idolaters but we have lost the old religion and we don't know any new way." They need us now. May we see our responsibility. Go home and try to lift the vision of your people, especially the young people.

Miss Jones expects to return to her loved work in China next summer. After a few remarks by Rev. Hammitt the meeting closed with prayer and benediction by the Rev. A. T. Stephenson.

The register showed 126 names but there were doubtless 150 present during the day. The Wesleyan Missionary Society of the church should be congratulated on the appetizing luncheon served at the noon hour.

Dancing and Card Party Tuesday Night

Members of Dorothy Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, have completed all arrangements for their combination dancing and card party which is to be held at the Masonic Temple St. Patrick's day, Tuesday, March 17. The time at which the card party is to begin has been set ahead to 8:30 P. M., in order that those who care to, can spend part of the evening dancing. The card party will be held in the parlors and as usual some beautiful prizes have been selected. There will probably be not less than thirty-five or forty tables of bridge. A popular orchestra has been engaged for the dance which will begin at 9 and continue until 14 o'clock.

A number of friends in Sterling, Polo and Franklin Grove have assured the committee that they will again attend and enjoy this annual event. The various committees have worked very diligently and sufficient tickets have already been disposed of to assure a large attendance.

Meeting and Hard Time Party for D. U. V. on Thursday

The D. U. V. of Civil War 1861-1865 met in G. A. R. hall at 2:30 Thursday, Mar. 12. There was a large attendance of officers and members; also three comrades present.

The committees had good reports. The relief committee reporting having placed clothing to the value of $10 in the past two weeks.

The secretary read an invitation to the D. U. V. to a reception and dinner dance at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, on April 4. This is being tendered to A. C. Best, Department Commander G. A. R. Ethel M. Ehrhardt, Dept. President of D. U. V. and Morton Slossum, Dept. Commander Illinois Sons of Veterans by the Cook County membership of the D. U. V. and Sons of Veterans and commemorates the 65th anniversary of the organization of the G. A. R.

A committee was appointed to purchase dishes, etc. for the order.

Members are asked to save their tinoli which is to be sent to the Maywood Home, also subscriptions to the "Better Homes and Gardens" can be placed through the D. U. V. and will benefit the order.

Any member desiring a Journal of the Rock Island Convention may secure one now. The thirty-seventh annual convention of the G. A. R. and allied organizations will be held at Aurora, Ill., the week of May 31, 1931. Sessions will open June 2 at 9 A. M. with Department Headquarters of D. U. V. at the Leland Hotel.

In the evening the D. U. V. sponsored a hard times social at G. A. R. hall which was largely attended. There was much merriment and a good program of music and readings. Mrs. Onen, Mrs. McKinney and Miss Arlene Steffa adding to the pleasure of the evening. There were many "ragged Ann's" there and a poor little "Nellie" with only one heel on her shoes. Prizes were given and refreshments served by the committee in charge.

HARD BATTLE TO KEWANEE QUINT

The Presence Of Band And Quartet Failed To Overcome Jinx

In the presence of the Sterling Municipal band, the Speedbowl ma'e quartet and over a hundred supporters, Sterling high school basketball team, winners of the Dixon district tournament, fell before Kewanee in the semi-finals at Moline last night, but only after the tired Whiteside county boys gave their opponents a real struggle all the way. The score was 22 to 19.

Chicago, Mar. 14—(AP)—The championship cast in the Illinois state high school basketball tournament will be decided tonight when sixteen teams fight it out for sectional titles. The survivors were Lawrenceville, Mt. Vernon, Simpson, Johnston City, Armstrong, Rantoul, East St. Louis, Collinsville, East Aurora, Harrison of Chicago, Kewanee, Galesburg, Wenona, Peoria Manual, Springfield and Decatur.

Close battles marked the semi-final contests in the sectional tournaments last night although not overly startling upsets were turned in. Peoria Manual's strong team, defending champion, had fairly easy sailing, however, by crushing Monmouth, 27 to 15.

One feature of the night's play was the reduction of Chicago's contenders to one survivor, Harrison of Chicago, edged out Waterman, 36 to 25, at Joliet but the strong Crane team of Chicago fell before East Aurora, 23 to 21. East Aurora, thereby gained favor to win tonight as Crane previously had defeated Harrison.

At Bridgeport, the semi-final round turned out to be just another romp for Lawrenceville and Mt. Vernon. Lawrenceville crushed Vandalla and Mt. Vernon defeated Mattoon by identical scores of 36 to 18.

It was a fight all the way in the Carbondale sector where two of the closest games of the state tournament were played. In the upper bracket, Simpson defeated Murphyboro, 12 to 10, in a thriller, which was repeated when Johnston City came through with a 17 to 15 victory over Benton.

At Armstrong, ran away with Bloom of Chicago Heights at Danville, 45 to 25 but Rantoul had a hard fight in dropping the strong Urbana team, 18 to 12.

At East St. Louis, Collinsville lived up to its reputation as a winning team by routing Witt, 32 to 23. In the other game, East St. Louis beat back Hillsboro after a stirring battle, 26 to 22.

Kewanee and Sterling staged a battle royal at Moline, Kewanee, emerging victorious, 22 to 19. Galesburg showed surprising strength in eliminating Moline, 37 to 23.

A field goal in the last 30 seconds of play changed defeat into victory for Wenona over Farmington in the other game at Peoria. The score was 12 to 11, the closest game of the night.

At Springfield, Decatur staggered into the dressing room with a hard 25 to 20 triumph over Quincy while Springfield defeated University High, 29 to 20.

Hot Springs, Ark., Mar. 14—(AP)—Arthur Shires broadcast today that it is impossible to keep a great man down, therefore he is due to become greater than ever despite his present sojourn in the minors and a little financial difficulty because of the business depression.

Shires arrived here yesterday only a week late for a bit of spring training with the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association, and hardly had time to get his breath before he announced in no uncertain tones this would be the last time he would show for a minor league club.

His reason for coming to Hot Springs, he said, was to start a climb back to the majors. And he said his stay there when he got back, would be permanent.

"The depression," said Shires, "was hard on me. In the first place I was shipped to minors. Then I lost money in a Hollywood building and loan association now in the hands of receivers."

"Then—and this with a broad grin—"I got married."

The gabby one, lately of the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators, arrived here after an anxious Brewer management had become worried over his non appearance. He explained his absence by saying he was caught in a snowstorm in Chicago.

He arrived here after driving all night with his wife. But after a few winks of sleep he was out in a Brewer uniform for the morning practice.

YANKEES SHOW BATTING PUNCH IN THEIR WORK

McCarthy Is Not Worried Over His Team: Has Balanced Bunch

By ALAN GOULD

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 14—(AP)—The New York Yankees still have the most expensive athlete in baseball and the batting punch sufficient to terrify most pitching talent.

They still have spectator appeal otherwise, their case remains open to argument and it is just a wild guess where they will finish in this year's American League race. They were third in 1930.

Marse Joe McCarthy, late of the Cubs, now undertaking at least a two-year term as manager, has inherited an assortment of great ball players led by Babe Ruth, a flock of pitchers of all sizes and capabilities plus a few choice problems. If he, worried about them, Marse Joe does not manifest it.

The Yankees have flourished since the death of Miller Huggins. In Ruth and Combs of the outfield Gehrig and Lazzeri of the infield, they still have the main cogs of Huggins' last championship club. Otherwise the shuffling process is still on.

This early in the training process, it appears the veteran Joe Sewell, long one of the greatest American infielders with Cleveland, may solve McCarthy's infield puzzle. The Alabama has shown great form, at bat and in the field. If he fits in at third the infield will be rounded out with Tony Lazzeri at second, Lyn Lary at short and Lou Gehrig on first. If not, Lazzeri likely will cover third and Ben Chapman receive the assignment at second base.

One Gardener Uncertain

The only debatable outfield post is left field. Allen (Dusty) Cooke, if he has found himself, will get the call, but he will have to outlast and outthink Sammy Byrd, one of the few ball players who can beat Babe Ruth at golf. Myrtil Hoag, the Sacramento recruit, can hit but does not yet seem ready for a regular post.

Old man Ruth himself admits that at 244 pounds he is in grand condition, ready for a big year. He looks it and he is hitting the new and supposedly less lively ball with all his accustomed vehemence. Centerfield belongs to the Kentucky Colonel, Earl Combs.

With Bill Dickey at backup-in-chief, the Yankees have at least six regulars capable of hitting well over the 300 mark.

Pitching is worrying the experts more than McCarthy, although the United States in regular assembly, Wednesday evening, March 11, 1931, passed the following resolution:

Whereas William E. Baldwin camp, No. 23, U. S. W. V., a patriotic exercise men's organization has called upon the citizens of Dixon to support a tax assessment for the maintenance and employment of a municipal band for the city, and

Whereas, in connection with the Dixon Municipal band, a band for boys and girls is to be formed also, under the direction of a capable and professional band master, the instruction to be given free, and

Whereas, such an organization is greatly needed by the city of Dixon, and

Whereas, the members of Horace F. Ort post, No. 540, V. F. W., are heartily in accord with the resolution of William E. Baldwin camp, No. 23, U. S. W. V.,

Therefore be it resolved by Horace F. Ort post, No. 540, V. F. W., that we unanimously approve and support such a tax for the employment and maintenance of a municipal and junior band and be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be given to the Evening Telegraph for publication and that a copy of the same be placed in the records of the post.

The two teams were the only survivors today of 49 amateur outfits from all over the country which entered the annual tournament the first of the week.

The Henrys entered the finals by defeating the Los Angeles Athletic Club, 33 to 19, last night, while the Kansas City team won from the Young Men's Institute of San Francisco, 23 to 17, in the semifinal game. The Henrys won the championship last year.

Here's how It Works

For example, a $10,000 policy is taken at age 35. If the insured passes away the first year, the beneficiary receives $100 a month for 20 years or a total of approximately $24,000. At the end of the 20-year period the full face value of the policy, in this case $10,000, will be paid. Thus, the widow or beneficiary in 20 years would receive approximately $34,000 in addition to such interest dividends as may be declared by the company on the $10,000 held in trust until the expiration of the 20-year period.

On the basis of the interest dividends paid by most companies there would be an additional amount of from $2,000 to $3,000 which would make the income from this $10,000 policy more than premier decreases each year until the 20th, when in this case it is only $7.60.

Cup That Cheers General Butler

Maybe the name of Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler won't evoke many cheers in Italy. But 3500 pupils of the Northeast High School in Philadelphia, in a rousing ovation, proclaimed him the most popular speaker of the year at the school. Here you see the Marine Corps officer (right), who nearly faced a court martial for his remarks about Premier Mussolini, receiving a silver loving cup from David S. Cristol, representing the student body. In the center is Mayor Harry Mackay of Philadelphia.

George Piggas, star right hander, will not be recovered sufficiently from an appendicitis operation to start the season.

Joe Not Worried

Joe McCarthy, who has a great right hander in Charley Ruffing and another in Piggas, who will be ready early in the season. We have two seasoned left-handers in Ed Well and Herb Pennock, another good southpaw in Vernon Gomez.

The twirling problem seems to center around Gordon Rhodes, who again from Hollywood; big Roy Sherid and Henry Johnson. These three right-handers all have the experience. If they settle down and produce consistently, the club's pitching should be the best in years.

Of the pitching rookies, McCarthy expects results from John Allen, recalled from Jersey City; possibly Phil Weirner from Louisville.

With the veteran Cy Perkins for utility catching, a third string backstop will be picked from Arndt Jorgens, Bill Karlon and Tom Padden. Jimmy Reese will remain an infield reserve but Bill Werber, ex-college shortstop, probably will get another year's seasoning.

PUBLIC EDUCATION.

The worst thing about trying to appraise the status of common school education in the United States today is the fact that one gets so many different verdicts from which to choose.

On one hand, it is asserted that the education that is given children today is immeasurably better than that which was given half a century ago, and on the other hand there are people who declare that modern educational methods have lost themselves in a maze of technicalities, so that the pupil emerges with a narrow horizon and a poorly-trained mind.

In the current issue of World's Work magazine, for instance, a teacher calls for a simplification of the public school program. Experts in the field of education, she asserts, have learned teaching everywhere except in the classroom. They know nothing of children from first-hand observation—and try to study them through charts, curves, graphs and tests. They bedevil the teachers with questionnaires and extract profundities from the tabulations thereof. They then write new text-books and put them into the schools—and the hapless child is the goat.

Undoubtedly, there is ground for complaint in this respect. Faddists and theorists do settle on the public school system very often—so that one wonders, now and then, if the little red schoolhouse of the old days did not, after all, train its pupils just as well as they are trained today, if not better.

On the heels of this, however, comes Dr. C. V. Good, professor of education in the Teachers College of the University of Cincinnati, to point out the genuine advances that have been made in elementary education.

"The chief qualifications of the schoolmaster of 100 years ago," he points out, "were to manage the big boys and to rule the school with an iron hand. Two of the favorite pedagogical maxims of the time were 'Spare the rod and spoil the child,' and 'A boy has a back; when you hit it, he understands.'"

In addition, Dr. Good points out that much of the information contained in the old text-books was actually untrue. Geography and history, in particular, were so handled as to give the child a faulty picture of the world in which it lived. Furthermore, no effort was made to enlist a child's interest or stir his curiosity.

Undeniably, enormous advances have been made in these respects. In the light of Dr. Good's remarks it is impossible to deny that the modern school is leagues ahead of its predecessor.

But we have, nevertheless, two verdicts. Which is right? Dr. Good is entirely correct—which attitude comes the closer to expressing the truth of the matter?

AFRICA AND CIVILIZATION.

A representative of the Union of South Africa has arrived in this country to spread the word that Africa is no longer a wild continent but that it is quite as civilized, quite as modern as Europe or the United States. He quotes figures on production of iron and steel and boasts that symphony orchestras are taking the place of the beating drums of savage natives.

No doubt this is all true. Men who have visited the "dark continent" in the interest of science during the past 10 years have repeatedly urged the establishment of sanctuaries to preserve species of animal life that are fast disappearing. Africa is becoming civilized.

All this is thoroughly disheartening to one who likes to believe that somewhere in far-off places real adventure still exists. And what of future generations of small boys? Already most youngsters have discovered that cowboys can be found only in rodeos or wild west troupes; that Indian reservations are groups of farm houses with here and there a filling station or soft drink stand. As for pirates—they disappeared a hundred years ago.

Now there is to be no Africa, no impenetrable jungles made blood-curdling by the roar of lions, the thunder of herds of elephants and blazing campfires waiting for cannibals to toast their victims. Of course, there is still the circus, but the lure of the "Big Top" was never the same as that of the jungle. Africa modern? Africa civilized? Yes, it is all most disheartening.

A man in Pennsylvania was caught singing hymns as he robbed a store. Maybe he thought this the proper procedure while making a collection.

The burning problem with most families just now is whether that coal pile is big enough to last out the winter.

Green face powder, a news item says, is the rage in Paris. Perfectly killing, this Paris green!

"Hush money," points out the office sage, is usually made in the quiet.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Said Clowzy Tinymites, "I hope that you kill no more ants. They are such pretty animals. I hate to see them slain. I don't think I could ever be a hunter. It would upset me. I couldn't kill a single thing. My trip would be in vain."

"Ha, ha," laughed Scouty. "You're wrong, because I know that you are strong for killing one thing. That is time and you know well I'm right. You'd rather loaf than work a bit. So what you said just doesn't fit." Wee Clowzy blushed and frankly was a funny looking sight.

One of the Hunters then said, "Well, we're going to rest here for a spell. Our camp is just around the bend. Why don't you come along? I don't know just how 'twill take, but we'll prepare some antelope steak. I think you lads will like it, though it's just a wee bit strong."

"Oh, great!" cried Coppy. "I can eat a real good share. 'Twill be a treat!"

And so they joined the hunters and soon reached the comfy camp. It wasn't long until a meal was cooked and my, it tasted real! Wee Clowzy stuffed and said, "I am a hungry little scamp!"

A real soft chirping filled the air and Scouty cried, "Look over there! What is that, in that spreading tree? A bird's nest, I'll just bet." And, then he looked and, sure enough the nest was made of twigs and stuff. "Don't touch them," said a hunter. "It will only make them fret."

"Those birds are hammerheads and they have worked, I guess, both night and day to make their home a comfy one. It's strong as it can be. They fasten it so it won't fall. To them that isn't hard at all. You'll notice it is clinging to low branches of the tree."

"The Tinymites visit a dairy farm (The Tinymites visit a dairy farm in the next story.)"

RUYSDAEL'S BIRTH

On March 14, 1828, Jacob Ruysdael, the most eminent painter of the Dutch school, was born at Haarlem, Holland.

After studying under his uncle, Jacob was received into the guild in his home town. He moved to Amsterdam about 1855, where he soon obtained citizenship rights. At this time he traveled widely in his native land and in the outlying hill region of Germany.

He was a close observer of nature and chose for his paintings the flat and homely scenery of his native country, with lonely hamlets, water mills, dark sheets of water overshadowed by trees. His forest, mountain and waterfall scenes are called highly poetic.

In 1881 Ruysdael returned to Harlem poor and sick, and his Menonite coreligionists procured for him admission to the almshouse, where he died in March, 1882.

STERLING DROPS HARD BATTLE TO KEWANEE QUINT

The Presence Of Band And Quartet Failed To Overcome Jinx

In the presence of the Sterling Municipal band, the Speedbowl male quartet and over a hundred supporters, Sterling high school basketball team, winners of the Dixon district tournament, fell before Kewanee in the semi-finals at Moline last night, but only after the tired Whiteside county boys gave their opponents a real struggle all the way. The score was 22 to 19.

Chicago, Mar. 14—(AP)—The championship east in the Illinois state high school basketball tournament will be decided tonight when sixteen teams fight it out for sectional titles. The survivors were Lawrenceville, Mt. Vernon, Simpson, Johnston City, Armstrong, Rantoul, East St. Louis, Collinsville, East Aurora, Harrison of Chicago, Kewanee, Galesburg, Wenona, Peoria Manual, Springfield and Decatur.

Close battles marked the semi-final contests in the sectional tournaments last night although not overly startling upsets were turned in. Peoria Manual's strong team, defending champion, had fairly easy sailing, however, by crushing Monmouth, 27 to 15.

One feature of the night's play was the reduction of Chicago's contenders to one survivor, Harrison of Chicago, edged out Waterman, 36 to 25, at Joliet but the strong Crane team of Chicago fell before East Aurora, 23 to 21. East Aurora, thereby gained favor to win tonight as Crane previously had defeated Harrison.

At Bridgeport, the semi-final round turned out to be just another romp for Lawrenceville and Mt. Vernon. Lawrenceville crushed Vandavia and Mt. Vernon defeated Mattoon by identical scores of 36 to 18.

It was a fight all the way in the Carbondale sector where two of the closest games of the state tournament were played. In the upper bracket, Simpson defeated Murphyboro, 12 to 10, in a thriller, while in the lower bracket, Harrison City came through with a 17 to 15 victory over Benton.

Armstrong ran away with Bloom of Chicago Heights at Danville, 45 to 26 but Rantoul had a hard fight in dropping the strong Urbana team, 18 to 12.

At East St. Louis, Collinsville lived up to its reputation as a winning team by routing Witt, 32 to 23. In the other game, East St. Louis beat back Hillsboro after a stirring battle, 26 to 23.

Kewanee and Sterling staged a battle royal at Moline, Kewanee emerging victorious, 22 to 19. Galesburg showed surprising strength in eliminating Moline, 27 to 22.

A field goal in the last 30 seconds of play changed defeat into victory for Wenona over Farmington in the other game at Peoria. The score was 12 to 11, the closest game of the night.

At Springfield, Decatur staggered into the dressing room with a hard 25 to 20 triumph over Quincy while Springfield defeated University High, 19 to 20.

Tonight's Pairings
At Bridgeport—Lawrenceville vs. Mt. Vernon.
At Carbondale—Simpson vs. Johnston City.
At Danville—Armstrong vs. Rantoul.
At East St. Louis—East St. Louis vs. Collinsville.
At Joliet—East Aurora vs. Harrison of Chicago.
At Moline—Kewanee vs. Galesburg.
At Peoria—Wenona vs. Peoria Manual.
At Springfield—Springfield vs. Decatur.

Sewell was given his unconditional release by the Cleveland Indians last fall after eleven years of major league service and was signed by the Yankees as a free-agent.

Admittedly one of the greatest hitters in all time major league history, Sewell was reported to have lost his speed foot. However, his performances at the Yankee camp indicate that he is far from through as a major league performer and he is expected to win a regular position at third base with the Yanks.

Hot Springs, Ark., Mar. 14—(AP)—Arthur Shires broadcast today that it is impossible to keep a great man down, therefore he is due to become greater than ever despite his present sojourn in the minors and a little financial difficulty because of the business depression.

Shires arrived here yesterday only a week late for a bit of spring training with the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association, and hardly had time to get his breath before he announced in no uncertain tones this would be the last time he would show for a minor league club.

His reason for coming to Hot Springs, he said, was to start a climb back to the majors. And he said his stay there when he got back, would be permanent.

"The depression," said Shires, "was hard on me. In the first place I was shipped to minors. Then I lost money in a Hollywood building and loan association now in the hands of receivers."

"Then—and this with a broad grin—"I got married."

The gaby one, lately of the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators, arrived here after an anxious Brewer management had become worried over his non appearance. He explained his absence by saying he was caught in a snowstorm in Chicago.

He arrived here after driving all night with his wife. But after a few winks of sleep he was out in a Brewer uniform for the morning practice.

YANKEES SHOW BATTING PUNCH IN THEIR WORK

McCarthy Is Not Worried Over His Team: Has Balanced Bunch

By ALAN GOULD

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 14—(AP)—The New York Yankees still have the most expensive athlete in baseball and the batting punch sufficient to terrify most pitching talent.

They still have spectator appeal otherwise, their case remains open to argument and it is just a wild guess where they will finish in this year's American League race. They were third in 1930.

Marse Joe McCarthy, late of the Cubs, now undertaking at least a two-year term as manager, has inherited an assortment of great ball players led by Babe Ruth, a flock of pitchers of all sizes and capabilities plus a few choice problems. It he's worried about them, Marse Joe does not manifest it.

The Yankees have floundered since the death of Miller Huggins. In Ruth and Combs of the outfield Gehrig and Lazzeri of the infield they still have the main cogs of Huggins' last championship club. Otherwise the shuffling process is still on.

This early in the training program, it appears the veteran Joe Sewell, long one of the greatest American League infielders with Cleveland, may solve McCarthy's infield puzzle. The Alabama has shown great form, at bat and in the field. If he fits in at third the infield will be rounded out with Tony Lazzeri at second, Lyn Lary at short and Lou Gehrig on first. If not, Lazzeri likely will cover third and Ben Chapman receive the assignment at second base.

One Gardener Uncertain
The only debatable outfield post is left field. Allen (Dusty) Cooke, if he has found himself, will get the call, but he will have to outthrust and outlast Sammy Byrd, one of the few ball players who can beat Babe Ruth at golf. Myrl Hoag, the Sacramento recruit, can hit but does not yet seem ready for a regular post.

Old man Ruth himself admits with a 224 pounds he is in grand condition, ready for a big year. He looks it and he is hitting the new and supposedly less lively ball with all his accustomed vehemence. Centerfield belongs to the Kentucky Colonel, Earl Combs.

With Bill Dickey at backstop-in-chief, the Yankees have at least six regulars capable of hitting well over the 300 mark.

Pitching is worrying the experts more than McCarthy, although Chicago, Mar. 14—(UP)—The University of Indiana was in the lead in the Big Ten mat tournament today having qualified six wrestlers for tonight's finals.

Michigan was second in the number of qualifiers with five men. Other schools qualified in order: Illinois, four; Chicago, Northwestern and Iowa, three; Wisconsin and Minnesota, two; and Ohio State one.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 14—(UP)—Two men each from the Universities of Minnesota and Michigan had qualified today in the fancy diving preliminaries of the Western Conference swimming meet here, while Iowa and Northwestern trailed with but one contender for diving honors.

Lobdell, Iowa, present champion, took first place yesterday, being pushed for honors by Fenske and Raik, of Michigan, respectively second and third. Willard of Northwestern placed fourth in the preliminaries, and Nappa and Blaisdell, Minnesota entries, fifth and sixth.

Kansas City, Mo., March 14—(UP)—Two midwestern teams, the Henrys of Wichita, Kan., and the Kansas City Athletic Club, will play tonight for the National A. A. U. basketball championship.

The two teams were the only survivors today of 49 amateur outfits from all over the country which entered the annual tournament of the Western Conference.

The Henrys entered the finals by defeating the Los Angeles Athletic Club, 33 to 19, last night, while the Kansas City team won from the Young Men's Institute of San Francisco, 23 to 17, in the semifinal game.

The Henrys won the championship last year.

Cup That Cheers General Butler

Maybe the name of Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler won't evoke many cheers in Italy. But 3500 pupils of the Northeast High School in Philadelphia, in a rousing ovation, proclaimed him the most popular speaker of the year at the school. Here you see the Marine Corps officer (right), who nearly faced a court martial for his remarks about Premier Mussolini, receiving a silver loving cup from David S. Cristel, representing the student body. In the center is Mayor Harry Mackay of Philadelphia.

George Pigoras, star right hander, will not be recovered sufficiently from an appendicitis operation to start the season.

Joe Not Worried
"Why should we worry?" responded Joe. "We have a great right hander in Charley Ruffing and another in Pigoras, who will be ready early in the season. We have two seasoned left-handers in Ed Well and Herb Pennock, another good southpaw in Vernon Gomez."

The twirling problem seems to center around Gordon Rhodes, up again from Hollywood; big Roy Sherid and Henry Johnson. These three righthanders all have the experience. If they settle down and produce consistently, the club's pitching should be the best in years.

Of the pitching rookies, McCarthy expects results from John Allen, recalled from Jersey City; possibly Phil Weinert from Louisville.

With the veteran Cy Perkins for utility catching, a third string backstop will be picked from Arndt Jorgens, Bill Karlon and Tom Padden. Jimmy Reese will remain an infield reserve but Bill Werber, college shortstop, probably will get another year's seasoning.

FINE COLLECTION OF ATHLETES FOR ILLINOIS RELAYS

Records Expected To Fall In Meeting This Afternoon

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
Champaign, Ill., Mar. 15—(UP)—The greatest collection of track and field stars of the indoor season gathered here today for the fourteenth annual University of Illinois relay carnival.

Champions and record holders from the Big Ten, Big Six, Missouri Valley and from Pennsylvania to New Mexico were among the field which will compete in series of eight relay races, ten special events and individual all-around championship of seven events. The list included approximately 700 athletes from 58 schools.

The main event, including the University relays and finals in the special events, will be held at night in two hours' time. A feature which has contributed largely to the meet's popularity. In the afternoon, the college relays, the all-around championship and preliminaries were scheduled.

Barney Berlinger, Pennsylvania's great all-around athlete who has captured the all-around championship here the past two years, again was entered. Berlinger's score of 6071 points in 1929 is the meet record.

Among the other bright stars entered in the meet are Eddie Tolani, Michigan Springer; Lee Sentman, Illinois hurdler; Ray Putnam, Iowa State middle distance runner; Edward Gordon, Iowa's Negro broad jumper; Verne McDermott, Illinois pole vaulter; Sammy Behr, Wisconsin shot put; Johnny O'Brien, Notre Dame hurdler, and many others.

Seven new records were made last year and with seven titleholders in the special events and six relay champions returning another wholesale assault on the records seemed quite likely.

Two of the most promising events were the 75-yard hurdles and the pole vault. Sentman, who set a new world's record of 74 in the 60-yard high hurdles in the Big Ten meet last year, and Jack Kellar, Ohio State's entry, are the chief rivals in the hurdle race.

Verne McDermott, Illinois, who won the Big Ten pole vault last week at 13 feet, 9 1/2 inches held by Lee Barnes, Southern California, McDermott barely missed going over at 14 feet, 2 inches in the Big Ten meet.

Man's progress will continue as long as ideas can be hatched out of the inexhaustible sea of thought. The "good old days" cannot hold a candle to the better ones coming.

quality for the lowest terms
in Nash history

In a great number of instances—where the re-sale value of their used car equals or exceeds the down-payment—many families find that without paying a single cent in cash, they may now drive a new Nash. They simply trade in their present car as the first and principal payment.

The desirability of buying a new Nash now, when prices have reached the lowest levels in Nash history, is plainly apparent.

Our extremely low delivered prices emphasize the investment value of the Nash car—while the cars themselves present overwhelming proof, in feature after feature, that they are the highest quality Nash has ever produced and the soundest investments in their respective fields.

Come in—inspect the new Nash cars—and go for a test drive. Then learn for how little money you can own a new Nash.

Weekly Sermonette

By REV. LLOYD WARREN WALTER
Pastor St. Paul's Lutheran Church

Hebrews 4. 14-16.

Having then a great high priest who hath passed through the heaven, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. For we have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

Theme:—Encouraged to Draw Near.

I. When Moses ascended the mountain the people were warned not to come nearer to the mount than the marked line upon penalty of death. But have you not heard, that line has been taken away and erased. The veil in the Temple is rent from top to bottom and we are told to draw nigh. It has been accomplished by Jesus the Son of God and the Son of Man.

It is the Son of God who died who has taken away the death line. He went into the Holy of Holies. It was only once, "once for all,"—for every man and woman and child. He was God and did not need to go in oftener. "So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many."

It is also the Son of Man who died who has taken away the death line. He was tempted and tried like you are tested and tried and tempted, and did not fail nor fall. "Though He were a Son, yet learned He obedience by the things which He suffered." He was tempted for me; He was tried for me; He was crucified for me; He was sin for me. He is not a high priest that cannot be touched. He has taken away the death line. Do not stand outside; draw near.

II. The Attitude. How am I to Come? Surely not with presumption. When queen Esther entered the throne room of her husband king, Ahasuerus, it was with fear:—"If I perish, I perish." We are not to come in an attitude of fear. When we come to Him it is with confidence, with assurance. He honors the faith and confidence of His people.

III. For What Purpose. For two reasons you are to press your claims:—

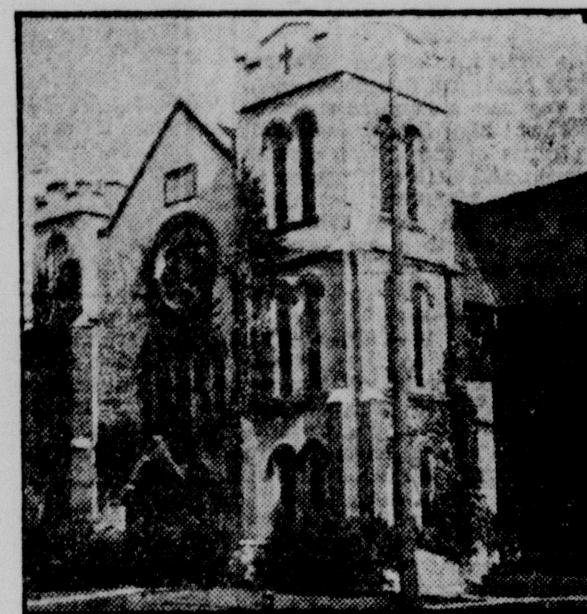

1.—For Mercy. "I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance," is Jesus' word. If you are perfect all this is wasted time and energy. If you think or say you are as good as others and stand on your own righteousness you do not need Him. But who does not need mercy, gracious consideration at the hands of Jesus Christ? Even at the hands of one another we all need sympathetic consideration. You are encouraged to draw near and make your confession.

2.—For Grace. Not only do I need to have much blotted out, I also need to have much inserted. For every day I need His grace. It is right to make a good beginning but it is not enough. How wonderful to begin a journey, being filled with anticipation, arranging all the details, gathering all the needed articles; but how much more wonderful it is to keep fresh and strong, indeed grow stronger all the way of the journey. There is grace supplied, abundantly, for every turn of the way, to the end.

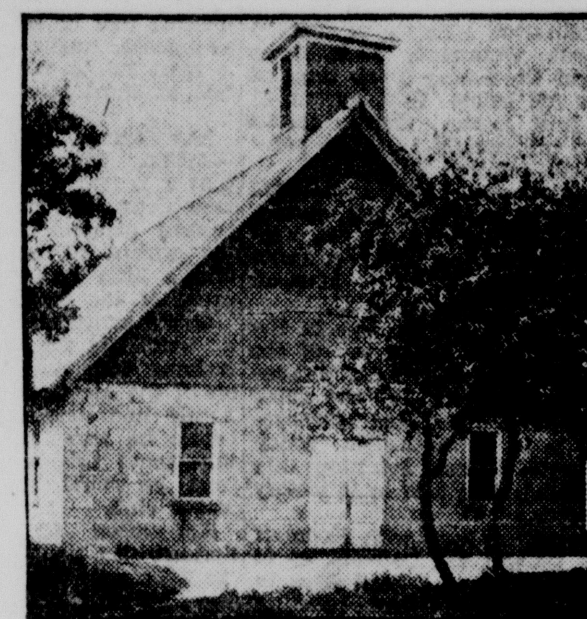

IV. The Hour of Need. There are some days when the hours are heavy and our hope and strength broken. These are hours of especial need. It reminds one of a great Arctic explorer who has pushed his way over rough and jagged hillocks of ice and snow and finally cold and exhausted he is about to collapse; when lo, in the mound of snow where he was about to die he finds a supply of all he needs. Some of the party anticipated the situation and cached supplies along the route of the return journey which their daring leader was sure to take.

Our Lord who knows and has traveled and travels the journey with us has more truly and wonderfully anticipated the situations and deadly hours of our especial need. Lo, grace sufficient and abundant for every dark hour.

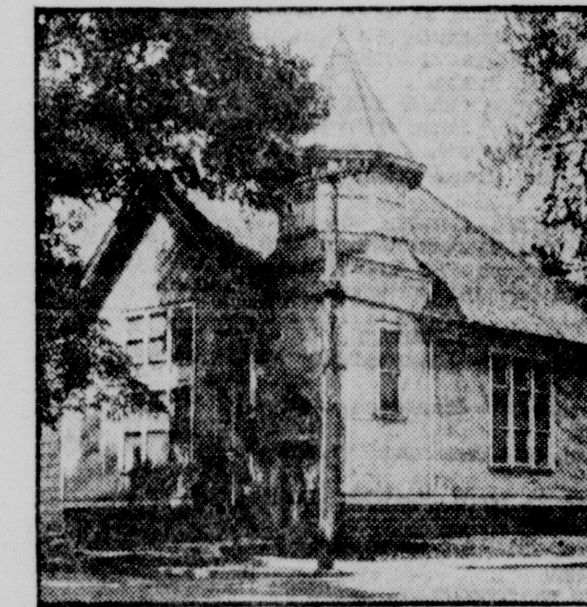

"And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought always to pray and not to faint. Let us therefore draw near with boldness to the throne of grace * * * *"

FRANKLIN GROVE NEWS NOTES

FRANKLIN GROVE—The Kilo Club will meet next Tuesday March 17, at the home of Mrs. Nellie Harsch. Roll Call, Ireland, Leader, Mrs. Grace Stultz. Topic, "Women of Ireland."

The Aid Society of the Methodist church will meet next Thursday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Schultz. A good attendance is desired business of importance.

The Hillside Community Club met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kesseling. There were fifty-two present. Mrs. Lewis Meyers and Ernest Pair were on the membership committee and a very good program resulted. During the evening refreshments were served consisting of jelly, sandwiches, cake and coffee. Everyone present had a very enjoyable evening and find that these gatherings are a help to school.

George L. Spangier transacted business in Freeport Monday night. The social at the church of the Brethren Friday evening was attended by over one hundred members and friends. The affair imitated Friday in a school of forty years ago, where the morning session was devoted to studying the three "R's," spelling and geography, and the afternoon to songs, recitations, etc., just as they did forty years ago. Lunch consisted of apple butter and sugar sandwiches, hard boiled eggs, cheese and doughnuts. The teacher of this school Friday night was Henry Hicks, who days gone by was considered a very good teacher, and proved himself as such again Friday night. It was an evening long to be remembered.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Brindle, who formerly resided here before moving to Pine Creek, have been engaged as co-seers of the Old People's Home at Morris. Rev. Brindle will continue to preach at Pine Creek until another minister is secured.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kindig of Dixon were guests Tuesday at the George Mong home.

Mrs. Harry Jackson and two sons were week-end guests of relatives in Aurora.

Miss Alice Fitch left yesterday for Cottage Hill, Florida where she will spend a month at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carrigan.

Mrs. Alice Canfield of Ashton who is keeping house for Lorenzo Mattson celebrated her eightieth birthday Tuesday. She had as her guests for dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gehent, Mr. and Mrs. John Asher of Ashton.

Mrs. Clara D. Smith and Mrs. Della Thayer received word recently that their aged cousin, Mrs. Lucy Starks, died at the home of her grandson in Eldora, Iowa, February 17, and was buried by the side of her husband, Orlando Starks at Litchfield, Iowa. Mrs. Starks who was nearly 94 years of age spent two years here with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Thayer in 1926-27, making many friends who will be concerned to hear of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knouse were Wednesday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bates.

Lights will soon be installed at the local stock yards by the C. & N. W. Ry. This surely will be a big advantage to live stock shippers who use the yards for loading.

The big blizzard of Saturday and Sunday, certainly put the kinks in the news items this week. Everybody had to stay at home.

Mrs. John Vogt went to Rockford yesterday where she will visit a few days with relatives.

George Fruit, Henry Withey, Dorsey Buck, and Harry Weide attended the annual convention of threshers held in Peoria last week.

David Neher is kept pretty busy these days keeping the large battery hoppers in operation at the local hatchery. He has about 500 little chicks on hand, but will not be there long when the weather gets warm again.

Mrs. Frank Winger is a patient in the Dixon hospital, her friends are coming with her in wishing for a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Blanche Royster and children moved recently to the Amos Wilson residence. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Biesecker who were living there moved to the tenant house on the C. W. Lohman farm, north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Patch and son Edwin and their daughter, Mrs. Roy

Shoemaker attended a funeral of a relative in Coleta Tuesday.

Ed Lott shipped his cattle to Chicago Monday.

The ladies of the Library Board cleaned the Library Tuesday afternoon.

Final Meeting Men's Club
The final meeting of the United Men's Club for this season was held Tuesday evening in the Church of the Brethren, with the largest attendance since its organization present. About ninety men were served a splendid supper of roast beef, baked potatoes, brown gravy, cold slaw, bread and butter, coffee, home made ice cream and wafers.

During the business session, conducted by the chairman, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Clyde Phillips, president; Ira L. Buck, vice-president; Henry A. Dierdorf, secretary-treasurer.

The music for the evening was furnished by Fox's little "German Band" and was greatly appreciated. R. R. Miller, chief forester of the division of forestry, Illinois Department of Conservation, located the national forests for the crowd and talked concerning the work the state is doing in maintaining forests of the state. With the aid of Frank H. Senger he showed lantern slides of scenes in the state forests and game preserves.

From an original acreage of about 1,500,000 acres, Illinois now has about 2,000,000 acres of forest. Mr. Miller remarked. The state owns about 10,000 acres of forest and games preserves lands. Pictures shown revealed now the state protects the forests against fires and maintains nurseries for the propagation of young trees to plant in the burned-overlands. Some of the few lumber industries were also pictured. The lecture was instructive, interesting and enjoyable.

Rummage Sale in May
The finance committee of the Library Board announces that the second annual rummage sale will be held sometime during the month of May. As you can house or replace articles, keep in mind the Library and the sale. Any member of the board will call for articles if you do not care to keep them until the sale. The ladies are soliciting clothing, furniture, bric-a-brac, antiques, etc., in fact anything you care to give or dispose of will be greatly received.

People's Ticket
A petition was circulated the first of the week for a People's Ticket to be voted on at the village election to be held April 21st. Following is the ticket: Village president, Frank Bates; Charles Howard, Julia Gilbert and Charles Wagner for trustees. As yet we have heard of no other ticket.

Community High School Wins
Despite the raging blizzard which commenced before noon Saturday and continued with unabated fury during the night, a large vote was polled at the school election held in the Town Hall Saturday afternoon. The vote proved without question that the proposition of enlarging school district No. 58, and formulating a Community High School District, was favored by most of the residents within the boundary of the proposed district.

There were objectors to the plan, but every advancing step in small or large communities meets with some objections to detract from the glory of a unanimous victory. The proposal of a community high school district had been explained and examined from every angle and valuable facts were discovered whereby benefits would be derived by the formation of such a school district. Meetings held in town and in various rural schools, brought out most of the pros and cons concerning the subject so widely discussed.

559 persons exercised their privilege at the polls, "for" the proposed Community High school district. 21 votes were cast. "Against" the proposal, 128 votes were cast. This Community High school district will be designated henceforth as No. 250 April 4th has been set as the date for the election of the initial high school board. Petitions circulated the first of the week and filed yesterday, will place on the ballot the following nominees to form this high school board of members: Fred C. Gross, Ira L. Buck, R. W. Smith, Frank Kesseling and Fred Johnson.

Brethren Notes
Next Sunday Rev. Virgil C. Pinnell will fill the pulpit. In the morning he will speak on "The Eternal Conflict," and in the evening beginning at 7:00 he will give his latest stereoscopic lecture on "Why Girls Smoke" which should be especially helpful and interesting to the young people of our community. Rev. Pinnell has had several years experience as a lecturer on moral issues and we invite the public in general to hear him. Sunday school—9:30. Preaching—10:30. C. W. and Y. P. D.—7:00. Preaching—7:45.

Presbyterian Notes
9:30—Sunday school, Fred C. Gross, Supt. 10:30—Divine Worship with sermon. Theme "Spiritual Unity with Christ." 3rd of a series on "His Very Own." This is a very important topic. What did Christ mean when He said that they may be one? Church union is much discussed these days. Is it spiritual? This topic will be carefully studied at this service. You are welcome. The Sunday school lesson Wednesday evening by the minister, will help you. Plan to attend 7 to 8 o'clock p. m. each week.

Woman's Club Notes
The March Garden meeting will be held Monday, March 16, at 2:15 p. m. at the home of Mrs. L. W. Moore. Roll call response will be "My Most Successful Garden Venture" and the program will be on a garden topics of interest. L. L. Group will furnish a talk on gladness which will be of interest to all who admire this beautiful flower. Plans will be discussed for the illustrated garden talk to be given March 23 by Mrs. John Wagner of Sterling. Mrs. Wagner will bring many beautiful views of gardens, as well as a collection of various articles and materials which she explains and demonstrates in an informal talk on gardening, from her own personal experience. A good attendance is hoped for at the garden meeting Monday at Mrs. Moore's.

AMBOY AFFAIRS

Amboy—Mary North of Chicago spent the week here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee North. Hannah Paulson returned to her home in Sterling Monday evening after spending the week end at the P. S. Plack home.

Mary Goy of Maytown spent the week end here at the home of her aunt.

Mrs. Josephine Hallisay entertained Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lippard and daughter Betty at supper Sunday evening.

Several from here went to Paw Paw Sunday to attend the funeral of James Larabee.

Presbyterian Church
Each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock this church invites you to join in a Layman's service combining Sunday school and church services.

The entire combined service lasts about one hour and quarter. Objects: Bible study and worship.

The Session
Baptist church—Evening at 7:00 p. m. Owing to the bad weather of last Sunday the young people will assist the pastor in presenting the program which was postponed last week. We are anxious that the children come also. This will be a night of cooperation. Parents invited.

Methodist Episcopal Church
Sunday school—10:00 a. m. Morning worship—11:00 a. m. Epworth League 6:30 p. m. Gospel Service at 7:30 p. m.

The Builders Class will meet with Mrs. Ward on Tuesday, March 17. Providing the weather and condition of the road will permit this evangelistic canvass will be made next week by a group of members of the church and congregation together with the pastor of the church. The co-operation of all will be appreciated.

Everybody welcome to these meetings.

E. W. Ward, pastor of the many unusual spectacles witnessed in this country this winter was that of seeing concrete walls, etc., being constructed during the month of February. It is very doubtful if anything like it has ever been attempted and completed in this community before in this time.

of the year. This has been an exception winter in every way.

Paw Paw and surrounding communities paid well for a few days for the long period of spring weather with which they had been blessed during the past three months.

A blizzard was promised for Friday, March 13, but it did not arrive. By Saturday morning about 11:30 it started in and by night reports began coming in of cars stuck in the drifts on highways and byways alike. The basketball squad had gone to DeKalb.

Corinthian lodge of masons had been preparing for a "big time" with delegations expected from surrounding towns. But the "big time" was called off.

West of town on the Old Chicago road the Erlenbach hill was already drifted full.

Cars tried to buck the drifts. First one and then another got stuck and were abandoned. Eleven people were given shelter that night in the hospitable Erlenbach home. They were fortunate that the storm overcame them at that particular place.

Carl Kinzelberger was called on to pull out one of the stalled cars. He started out with his trusty wrecker but came back without it. The next morning all that could be seen of the valiant wrecker was six inches of the derrick. All the rest was under the snow. A Hudson sedan was submerged all but its very roof.

Sunday was a continuation of the storm. Church services were practically without audiences. About eleven o'clock a snow plow went west on the Burlington Road Commissioner Fay Snow got out the township "catapillar" and scraper, opened Main street for traffic and started west to relieve beleaguered cars there. The caterpillar walked over most of the drifts with ease, pulling the grade.

But the drifts near Erlenbach's were too much for it. It could not negotiate them and had to give it up. Very few cars were stirring. And the wind and snow continued. The drifts were deeper.

With Monday morning came the determination to digout. Although the wind was still almost a gale from the northwest and the slowly moving snow was filling all runs. The group who were in DeKalb made a start for home. They included Coach Emmerton, Don Ambler, Robben Fleming, Henry Knetsch, Lyman Snyder, Bruce Wheeler, Paul Thomas, Lowell Ulrey, Jim Ketchum, Ray Ensminger and Mox Foster of the squad Arthur Harper, Miss Carmichael, Miss Work, Jack Boyle, Ed Kehm and Wellington Hackman.

They came to the Waterman airport on route 23, and there found a grader and truck stalled in the drifts on route 71. This did not daunt them and with Arthur Harper driving T. M. Gilton's Studebaker in the lead, they hit through fields and over fences, at last reaching Shabona. They left their cars and came home in the caboose following the snowplow on the railroad, reaching Paw Paw at 3 p. m. Monday.

A group of shovelers went out to dig through to the imprisoned cars near Erlenbach's Monday afternoon. After digging several hours they were still ten rods from the nearest car and gave it up.

Scrapers from Paw Paw had gone south and east while those from Earlville came north and west in order to open roads to the I. W. Larabee farm. The funeral of Mr. Larabee was postponed from Sunday until Tuesday afternoon.

No mail was received either Sunday or Monday. Mail carrier Alf Toumikes was unable to get through. Shortly after seven on Tuesday morning Postmaster Giffin loaded the accumulated mail into Harry Prentice's bob sled and started for Compton, where Paw Paw mail had been left.

They returned with the sled loaded with mail bags at 11:45.

In the afternoon a state snow plow, pushed by a heavily loaded truck, pushed through all drifts easily, opening the way to route 70. Carl Kinzelberger and Dr. Fleming were able to get their cars out and have them brought to town.

The snow has greatly settled and it is hoped this will be the last tie-up of the season.

The basketball season did not end with the tournament at DeKalb. The girls team is going to challenge the grade team Friday night. In order to make the evening more exciting we are going to have a Festival. The senior and freshman boys will play the junior and sophomore. This divides the players as well as it can be done and it promises to be a struggle which will give everyone an enjoyable evening. Another game will be held. This between the fifth grade boys and other er grade boys excepting those in the seventh and eighth grades.

A free throw tournament will be held for both girls and boys. During the week eliminations will be made and representatives from each class chosen. This festival will be interesting for both young and old. I'm sure you will enjoy watching the girls play. Everyone be present at seven o'clock sharp. Proceeds will go for athletic fund.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS

Weekly Book Review

WHETHER you read all the current fiction or not you should know something about it. The well informed person keeps posted, in a general way, on most of the new books. This weekly book review proposes to help you keep up to date.

Our criticisms may or may not please you. We will merely attempt to give you our honest opinion of the way these books appeal to us. We do not expect you all to agree with us all the time. Some of you may agree with us none of the time.

BEST SELLERS OF THE WEEK

FICTION.
"Grand Hotel," by Vicki Baum.
"The Bridge of Desire," by Warwick Deering.
"The Good Earth," by Pearl S. Buck.
"This Our Exile," by David Barnham.
"Back Street," by Fannie Hurst.
"A Jew in Love," by Ben Hecht.

NONFICTION.
"Education of a Princess," by Marie, Grand Duchess of Russia.
"Manga Reva," by Robert Lee Eskridge.
"Little America," by Richard E. Byrd.

THE NEW BOOKS

FICTION.
The Sophisticates, by Gertrude Atherton (Liveright), is a penetrating story of today.

Strange Combat, by Sara Salt (Brewer and Warren) is the story of a sophisticated journalist and an out-of-work boxer who dreams of future triumphs.

Restless Sands, by Marcel Prevost (Sears) depicts the love of a father and his son for the same woman.

Lucy Church Amiable, by Gertrude Stein (Imprimerie Union) is the latest opus from that esoteric pen.

Wide Open Town, by Myron Brine (Farrar and Rinehart), is a passionate and vigorous tale of the growth of an American mining town.

The Phantom with Wing of Gold (Vicente Blasco Ibanez (Dutton) reproduces the glories of the greatest gambling palace in the world and pictures a carnival of reckless living.

Lacemaker Lekholm Has an Idea (by Gustaf Hellstrom (Dial) is a long chronicle of a Swedish family comparable to the "Forsyte Saga."

Sanctuary, by William Faulkner (Cape and Smith) is a hideous and terrible picture done with the touch of greatness.

MYSTERY.
Fourth Degree, by K. S. Daiger

(Macrae Smith), tells of new and startling developments in the technique of crime detection.

Eye-Witness, by John Doe (Day) is an exciting story of the underworld by a well known author hiding behind a pseudonym.

The Craig Poisoning Mystery, by A. Fielding (Cosmopolitan), has a letter as a major clue.

Murder at the Paganet, by Victor L. Whitechurch (Duffield), happens at a house party.

ABOUT PEOPLE.
Mrs. Gaskell and Her Friends, by Elizabeth Haldane (Appleton), charmingly discusses the author of "Cranford" and her many friends.

A Vagabond Trouper, by Jefferson De Angelis and Alvin F. Harlow (Harcourt Brace), is a record of an adventurous theatrical career from the days of the old fashioned "variety shows" to the present.

Murder for Love, by Ione Quinby (Covici Friede), is about seven famous lady murderers as a reporter of our town.

ABOUT PLACES.
Florida Fishing, by Capt. Stewart Miller (Watt), is a guide to fishing in southern waters.

Dawn in India, by Sir Francis Younghusband (Stokes), summarizes the history of the British in India.

A Pagan's Pilgrimage, by Llewellyn Powys (Harcourt Brace), is a record of the author's journey to the Holy land.

NONFICTION.
Incredible Truth, by Irvin S. Cobb (Cosmopolitan), pictures great history making events as they were recorded by contemporaries who were present.

Prose Quartets (Random House) contains six little first edition volumes by six famous American authors.

Leigh Hunt's "Examiner" Examined, by Edmund Blunden (Harpers), tells of the too outspoken weekly journal which caused the imprisonment of both Leigh Hunt and his brother, John.

The Things That Are Not Caesar's, by Jacques Maritain (Scribners), is an essay on the relation of church and state.

The Ignoramus Garden Book, by Mary Wheeler Rush (Sears), is a practical garden guide for beginners.

"Windjammer"
Tells of Apprentice Seaman's Voyage

"Windjammer," by Ken Attiwill (Doubleday-Doran) is not a second "By Way of Cape Horn," although like Villiers' fine sea saga it pictures the voyage of a Finnish square rigger with grain from Australia to Queenstown. Attiwill, like Villiers was an Australian newspaper man and his voyage was made the same year Villiers sailed. But there the similarity ends. Villiers wrote of the sea as a seaman. Attiwill merely knew enough of seamanship, learned on this, his first and only voyage as sailor, to make good as an apprentice seaman. He writes well and has a picturesque style, but "Windjammer" while interesting, is unsatisfactory as a book of the sea. Ever the forward by Capt. David Bona of "Brassboulder" fame isn't especially convincing.

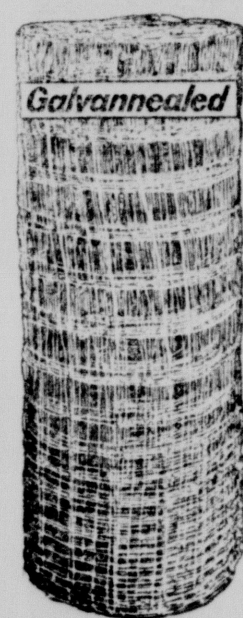

A few notes:
The demise of the "New York World" calls to mind that excellent biography of the founder, "Joseph Pulitzer," by Don Seitz, published a few years ago by Simon & Schuster.

The Literary Guild has concluded its fourth year with the announcement that it has saved subscribers $3,500,000 on retail book prices.

Sinclair Lewis is preparing to desert his long-time publishers, Harcourt, Brace & Company, in favor of Cosmopolitan. It is reported.

47 PROUST LETTERS OFFERED IN THIS LIMITED EDITION
"47 Unpublished Letters from Marcel Proust to Walter Berry" is a collector's item de luxe published by the Black Sun Press of Paris. It contains the original French version and a translation of each of the letters by Harry and Caresse Crosby, who own the press, one of the most famous of all the private presses. Harry P. Marks of New York imports the edition which consists of 200 copies.

PLEADED GUILTY TO MURDER WHEN MOTHER ADVISED

Second Hitch - Hiker Who Killed Benefactor Given Life

Bardstown, Ky., Mar. 14—(UP)—Anthony Peterson, Detroit, was under sentence of life imprisonment today for his part in the slaying several weeks ago of Carl B. James, former Ohio professor who was killed by two hitch-hikers to whom he gave a ride.

Peterson pleaded guilty late yesterday after his mother advised him by telephone from Detroit to do so. He was sentenced immediately.

His companion, Frank Carson, also of Detroit, was found guilty Thursday night of firing the shot that killed James and was sentenced to be electrocuted at Eddyville June 12.

Peterson was undetermined whether to plead guilty until he heard from his mother and his trial was delayed two hours awaiting her decision. She advised the guilty plea after reading accounts of how Carson was sentenced to die.

The principal witness against Carson and Peterson was James' widow, who was with him when he was killed. The youths, she testified, were given a ride by James, then shot him when he refused to turn over the automobile to them at an isolated spot near Bardstown. She identified Carson as the man who actually fired the shot.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

Author of 'HEART HUNGRY', etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GYPSEY McBRIDE, 19-year-old, meets the host on which ALAN CROSBY returns from a year and a half studying art in Paris. They are not engaged but there has been an "understanding" between them. Gypsy is a beautiful woman on the pier whom Crosby identifies as Mrs. LANGLEY, a ship's acquaintance.

Two nights later he breaks an engagement with Gypsy on a pier of business. She goes to the theater alone and encounters him with Mrs. Langley. There is a scene. Mrs. Langley, who is 34 and a divorcee, drives away alone. Gypsy and Crosby go home in a cab, quarreling all the way. Next day Gypsy is miserable. She hurries home from the office determined to apologize to Crosby. In the interview following he makes it plain his affection for Gypsy is ended. Next day Gypsy is surrounded for some careless work and in a petulant mood resigns. She accepts an invitation from her wealthy cousin, ANNE TROWBRIDGE, to take the place of a dinner guest who cannot appear.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX

PHIL TROWBRIDGE stood with his back toward them as Anne and Gypsy entered the living room. He was offering a cocktail to a pretty girl whose blond curls and frothy white lace gown made her resemble a figure on a French miniature. The girl was smiling. A look passed between them, and Trowbridge turned.

Across the room an elderly man with gray hair was in conversation with a woman in black. A fat, youngish man with a small mustache stood beside them.

Anne went forward. "Mrs. Lucas," she said in the tone of voice reserved for such occasions. "I want to present my cousin, Miss McBride, Gypsy—Mrs. Lucas."

That was the beginning of the introduction. There was a succession of them, including so many names and faces that all were confused. Gypsy, who had been so much at home as Anne Trowbridge, felt immediately. She discovered the man with the gray hair was Mr. Montgomery and the pretty little blond was his wife. She noted Mrs. Montgomery paid scant attention to her husband and generally there were at least two men beside her.

Trowbridge stopped to compliment Gypsy. "Say, girl, what have you been doing to yourself? I thought you were Greta Garbo when you came in!"

"What have you been doing to your eyesight?" Gypsy retorted. "Don't you know a blond from a brunette?"

"Minor detail—inconsequential!" he told her. "Anyhow you're a knockout!"

Gypsy smiled. She knew Phil was trying to be kind and she was grateful. It was pleasant to know that she looked well.

Anne came for her and there were more introductions. Gypsy shook hands, smiled the mechanical smile she was rapidly acquiring and then found herself beside Mrs. Lucas, the woman in black.

"Are you stopping with Mrs. Trowbridge?" the older woman asked.

"No—I live in New York."

"Oh, do you? Anne must bring you to tea some time. You're very like each other, aren't you? I'd almost say you were sisters!"

Gypsy was relieved. The conversation took a welcome turn toward a musical event of the past week. Gypsy knew nothing about it but she could nod and smile at the proper intervals. That was what the others did. She had been so afraid Mrs. Lucas was going to ask her address. Wouldn't it sound well to Anne's wealthy friends?

Two of Phil Trowbridge's business associates were included in the group. One of these was the gray

Facing her in the half-opened window, she saw a man.

The maid entered with more cocktails. All of the guests had arrived. Dinner was announced.

"YOU'RE to go in with Horace Page," Anne had told Gypsy. Page had been one of the last to arrive and at one glance Gypsy recognized herself to a dull evening. He was the type of middle-aged bachelor frequently encountered at dinner parties given by such hostesses as Anne Trowbridge. Slim but not tall, Horace Page wore rimmed spectacles attached to a gold chain. His eyes, behind the lenses, were vaguely gray. He had sharp features, pink cheeks and thinning hair.

They went into the elaborately appointed dining
